SUMMARY OF MEETING:

Representatives from DowBrands met with CPSC staff to present the status of the child-resistant packaging development for their products. The meeting opened with a discussion by CPSC staff of the exemption from the senior test for metal cans with metal closures and aerosols. Any product in metal packaging or in aerosol form that meets the criteria defined in 16 CFR § 1700.15(b)(2)(ii)(B) is exempt from the senior requirements. The Chemical Specialty Manufacturers Association (CSMA) asked for examples of acceptable criteria. The CSMA may submit sample rationale to obtain CPSC staff input. Any manufacturers may submit their rationale as indicated in the justification section of the ruling (16 CFR § 1700.15(b)(2)(ii)(B)(3)).

The meeting was then closed and the representatives from DowBrands presented details of their packaging development which they consider to be proprietary.
